Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winteret, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggists here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work." For sale by all druggists.

Sinking Spells,

fainting, smothering, palpitation, pain in left side, shortness of breath, irregular or intermittent pulse and retarded circulation all come from a weak or defective heart. Overcome these faults by building up the heart-muscles and making the heart-nerve strong and vigorous. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the remedy to use. It is the best.

"I would have spells when I would get weak and faint and my heart would seem to stop beating, then it would beat very hard. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and when I had used twelve bottles my heart was all right." Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Owensboro, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

is a heart and blood tonic of unequalled power and never fails to benefit if taken in time. Sold by druggists on guarantee. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Kate Chase's Great Ambition.

The story of "The Dashing Kate Chase and Her Great Ambition," is told by William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal for June. Born in 1840, she early began to exhibit a masterful spirit, to study politics, and to dream of the possibilities in store for her when her father, Salmon P. Chase, was proposed as a candidate for the Presidency in 1856, and again in 1860. When he was called to a Cabinet position he had been married three times, and it was whispered about that he was a widower. But the resolute Kate had made up her mind that no one should step in between her and her father, and one day when the lady called she was made so keenly to feel that she was an intruder that the budding romance was blighted, and Chase remained a widower.

Even after Kate's brilliant marriage to Senator William Sprague, of Rhode Island, she still cherished the ambition to see her father installed in the White House, and was most gracious to those who were likely to be influential in helping her to advance his interests. When he was appointed Chief Justice she saw in it only a scheme to head off his Presidential aspirations forever, and said, half-jocosely, half-reproachfully, to Senator Sumner, who had voted for his appointment: "And you, too, Mr. Charles Sumner, in this business of shelving papa! But never mind, I will defeat you all!"

In 1868 she nearly succeeded in getting the Democratic National Convention to carry out her wishes. It was in session in Tammany Hall, New York City, and she kept in communication with it by messengers, waiting anxiously for the moment when it was believed her father would carry all by storm. On the fourth day the moment seemed to have arrived, and her heart leaped with joy. But the expected stampede did not come, and the impatient daughter was almost moved to go herself to Tammany Hall. Indeed, there were afterward some politicians who asserted that if she could have gone among the delegates on the floor, she might have been able at the crucial point to have swung the convention to the Chief Justice. Instead, Horatio Seymour was nominated; and Kate Sprague that night was the most unhappy woman in the land.

About Decoration Day.

EDITOR GAZETTE-NEWS:
Does it seem the right and proper thing to expect the veterans to assume the task of initiating and preparing for the decorating and showing honor to their dead comrades—patriots, who sacrificed their lives and health in our Civil and Spanish-American wars?
It seems to an onlooker that this service might be assumed by every patriotic and public spirited citizen, thus relieving the living as well as honoring the dead patriots, who have given their lives to their country's service. AN ONLOOKER.

Card of Thanks.

EDITOR GAZETTE-NEWS:
I desire through the columns of your paper to thank Mr. J. R. Hill for the prize of fifty dollars received in the Teachers' Outing Contest, as well as my friends who made it possible for me to receive the same. I am, Very respectfully,
C. E. RICHARDS.

ASPRAINED ANKLE QUICKLY CURED
"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by all druggists.

Lovely Women in the Lagar

at the Quinto Celleiros, Portugal.

Girls treading Grapes to music, wearing short jackets and short linen pants, but a great variety of headgear. A violinist, seated on the edge of the vat, fiddles while one or two of the damsels join in with their voices, keeping time with their feet, treading the grapes.

Rubber Rollers are Used for Crushing the Grapes to Make Speer's Port, Burgundy, Claret and Other Wines.

Which, as is well known, rival the world in excellence, for invalids and aged persons, and are made from the Oporto grape grown on vines imported from Portugal forty years ago. The soil of northern New Jersey, containing iron, is just suited for them. Mr. Speer, however, uses the improved way of mashing the grapes. He employs large rollers of rubber run by an engine which crush grapes at the rate of a barrel a minute. Speer's Wines, especially the Port and Burgundy now in market, are of very old vintage, and have no superior. Physicians far and near prescribe them for weakly females and aged persons. They are blood-making, adding iron to the system, and tend to prolong life. Extensively used at parties, weddings and general family use. Sold by DRUGGISTS AND GROCERS WHO DEAL IN WINES.
